Emporium Medium Blend

Emporium is the pool hall in the movie Dazed and Confused, which, in a way, describes who we are...All right, all right, all right!

We bring the best coffee from all over the world to our roastery in Austin, TX. Blending together several of our single-origin selections to create this coffee that is complex and approachable, just the way a great blend should be, and reason enough to make it our house favorite.

Brazil Single Origin

Brazil is a single-origin medium roast coffee.

This coffee is named Cascavel Vermelha, after the rattlesnake that makes its home in and around coffee farms. This pulpy Brazil is loaded with sweetness and notes of red fruit that are common with the natural process.

Stella Cometa Espresso Roast

Italian for “North Star” or “Guiding Light” this Espresso Blend is our beacon for quality, craft, and product in one. It’s where we continually look to make sure we are steadfast in our commitment to produce the absolute best product possible.

This blend of coffees from Central and South America includes both washed and honeyed processing in order to create an espresso that combines body, sweetness, acidity, and a clean aftertaste.

West Pole Dark Roast

We strive to maintain distinctive origin flavors while softening the acidity and highlighting distinctive molasses and spice characteristics. This coffee is a shining example of our craft, providing enough roast development to please those who look for deep character but applied with a delicate hand to still deliver a true coffee experience.

The West Pole, unlike the North and South Poles, has no geographic significance whatsoever. It was declared to be so as more of a gag than anything else, and we kind've love that. It's definitely not something you would expect to find in Bee Cave, Texas (just east of our roastery) so we named our dark roast blend after it...just because.
